Rotary Hears Mayor Speak On Cameron

Mayor Bassel Wilson discussed the city charter and called for moves to encourage farm trade and industrial expansion in a talk Wednesday before the Cameron Rotary Club.

He was introduced by Burts Kennedy, program chairman.

Wilson listed seven differences between the city charter and the former city government. He pointed out that the charter has borne the brunt of unjust criticism.

He said the city charter only had these seven differences:

1. Power to extend boundaries.
2. Council appointment of the city judge.
3. Two-time reading of ordinances rather than three.
4. Abolishment of time warrants, limiting city to borrowing money it can repay within fiscal year borrowed.
5. A detailed budget of city finances.
6. Council appointment of city employees. (Council is elected.)
7. Addition of referendum and recall for voting consideration of ordinances and elected officials.

He pointed out the mayor's position is practically the same as it was before the present charter form.

"I plan to carry out policies set by the council and to seek harmony in city government," Wilson said.

He called for a move to woo the farmer to Cameron and said he would like to see 10 new plants with 35-50 employees each brought into Cameron.

Mayor Wilson listed outstanding bonds and warrants totaling $93,000 in 1958 for streets, right-of-way and city equipment and $340,000 in water and sewer bonds in 1958

Wilson had conducted two conferences in the past two weeks on the city charter, meeting with civic leaders and councilmen.

Mrs. Jan Speer, Chamber secretary, listed the following dates for the clinic:

The clinic has been conducted successfully in a number of Texas cities by Shively, an expert in community development.

He emphasizes that the purpose of the clinic is to allow citizens to make their own suggestions of needs improving in their town.

Rotary VP Tells Of S. African Race Separation

About 170 Rotarians, guests and wives from around Central Texas Thursday night heard W. Maurice Wild discuss International Rotary and the race problem in South Africa.

The dinner honored Mr. and Mrs. Wild. He is vice-president of Rotary International from Port Elizabeth, Union of South Africa.

The dinner was preceded by a work-conference Thursday afternoon at Cameron Country Club.

Wild described the influence of the spirit of Rotary in working out racial problems in Port Elizabeth and all of South Africa. He is an administrative officer of the city health department in Port Elizabeth.

He noted that South Africa has passed laws separating the races, placing the native population in their own developments built by the government.

Wild said South African cities have had a heavy influx of Bantu natives that have created slums and economic problems. The government, he said, is moving the natives and slum buildings out of the cities on to the plains areas near the cities.

He emphasized that the native over white ratio is four to one with the Bantus "unprepared to compete in a white civilization."

His speech was illustrated by slides showing highlights of South African native resources and the developments being built by the government.

Master of ceremonies was Rotary President Charlie Burke, who extended his appreciation to all Rotarians and wives for their cooperation in making the dinner a success.

The dinner was served at Simon-George Hall.

Rotary Gov. Norman Crawford introduced Wild.

4 Milam High Schools See FB Driving Class

"Safe driving must be made a personal habit of every motorist if the slaughter on America's highways is to be curbed," declared Vernon Gayle, Safety Director of the Texas Farm Bureau Safety Department, this week as he spoke prior to conducting driving tests at Buckholts, Sharp, Milano, and Thorndale High Schools.

"Excessive speed is the greatest single cause of automobile accidents," Gayle said. In the demonstration which followed, he pointed out the conditions under which even 20, 30 or 40 miles per hour can be excessive speed.

"When drivers know the true facts and base their driving on those facts, highway accidents will drop sharply."

Students and teachers took part in the tests which were conducted in a specially equipped car. The test driver was signalled to stop by an electrically controlled Detonator. As the shell was fired, the street was marked with yellow paint. A second bullet was fired as brakes were applied and a third after the car came to a complete stop.

Distances between the spots were carefully measured to determine in feet and inches how far the car traveled before the driver applied the brakes, or the reaction distance, and how far it traveled after the brakes were applied, or the braking distance.

Gayle emphasized the fact that a driver who observes the speed laws carefully is not a safe driver if he neglects many other items such as proper signalling for turns, approaching an intersection in the proper lane for a turn, the proper way to turn around, and many other things which he demonstrated in the test car.

These safety demonstrations which were brought to Milam County Schools under the sponsorship of the Milam County Farm Bureau are part of a long range program of traffic safety now being conducted by the Texas Farm Bureau Safety Department.

Wm. F. Arthur, Service Agent of the Milam County Farm Bureau, arranged the date and hour of the demonstrations in the various schools, and accompanied Gayle to each of the schools for the demonstrations.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Jones and Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Angell were co-hosts with the Holders.

Arrangements of wild flowers were placed throughout the house, and the serving table was covered with a lovely hand-crocheted ecru cloth, centered with an arrangement of pink carnations. Candleabras holding pink tapers flanked the center piece.

Miss Rosemary Jones presided over the guest book and Mrs. Clifford Angell and Mrs. Charles Richards served refreshments of pink punch, sandwiches and cookies.

Others in the houseparty were Mrs Bartow Jackson and Mrs. J. H. Angell.

Congratulations To YHS...

The Yoe High School athletic and literary entries in the district contest in Waco last week showed Cameron's allround strength in inter-scholastic competition.

School officials announced that Cameron's 330 points, second only to Killeen's 335, was the best showing in the school's history against AAA competition.

Cameron's wins in literary events such as slide rule, number sense and speech brought seven firsts and a number of other high places.

Yoe High School athletes, both junior boys and girls, won nine firsts and also a number of other places.

This balanced strength reflects the equal stress that a good school system can give to academic and athletic fields.

It also shows that Cameron's academic picture is becoming noteworthy in the Central Texas area since we are competing against the students of larger schools in the district.

We commend the school, its students and parents of the students for the record Yoe High made in the district competition. Without proper supervision and planning, the record would not have been possible.

We are looking forward to continued progress in the athletic and literary events in the regional and state competition. Further, we are looking forward to continued athletic and academic prowess in coming years on the playing field and in the classroom.

Cameron is accomplishing both.

Sage Says Scientists Are Fine, But Don't Have All The Answers

Dear editar:

Last night I was reading in a copy of a magazine which a friend handed me, I've heard you're not supposed to look a gift horse in the mouth or a used car under the hood, but still I figure a magazine is put out to be read and what attracted me in this one was an article on the school system.

According to it, the American school system is far behind the Russian system, and the main trouble with ours is that we're not turning out enough scientists.

Now I know that everybody is talking about science today, about how we've got to develop more, pay them more, pay teachers better to turn out more, etc., and how the future of mankind rests in the scientist's hand.

In fact, some people are saying that what this country needs is more scientists in positions of leadership. Maybe a scientist for President.

Well, now, I'll tell you, I'm in favor of scientists, and I'm especially in favor of scientific results, like a flat-proof tractor tire, but science isn't everything and the scientific attitude doesn't answer all the problems. I'm not acquainted with any live scientists, at least there aren't any living out here, probably not the right kind of soil, but I have a notion that even the pures tscientist must have his common troubles.

Don't scientists have unpaid bills, don't they get bad colds, don't they occasionally turn up with a deliquent child the same as other human beings? How would a scientist go about fighting a recession? Is there a scientific formula for arranging for the nations of the world to get along with each other? Can a scientist figure out a scientific system for getting elected to Congress? How's he stand on taxes.

Some day scientists may even grow all the world's food in test tubes, providing us unscientific people will keep them in laboratories, but until they do somebody s got to go up one row and down another if the world is going to keep on eating. For every man launched into space, somebody's got to launch a good many tractors up and down the rows of America.

Maybe the Russians can order a thousand new scientists to be turned out every two weeks in their school system, but over here we sort of let things turn out as they will. I don't mean we shouldn't offer more science courses, but what a boy turns into in this country is mostly the boy's choice. It may not be very scientific, but freedom, like a session of Congress, is no exact science anyway. I don't know whether our school system is behind Russia's or not, but if it has to produce a Stalin or a Khrushchev to catch up, I'd just as soon it slid along like it is.

Yours faithfully,

J. A.

Texas Farmer Fight Mexican Labor Ban

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN—Unemployment or no unemployment, most people this side of the Rio Grande aren't willing to bend their backs to pull onions at 50 cents an hour.

So say Texas farmers. Their crops are going to rot in the fields, they add, if the U.S. Labor Department doesn't relax restrictions on importing Mexican nationals.

Spokesmen for organized labor have demanded a ban on importing labor because of climbing unemployment. But farmers say that idle aircraft mechanics, no matter how numerous, are no help in getting the crops in. According to the farmers, abundant rainfall gives promise of the best harvests in years.... if they can get field hands.

Labor Dept. has put a limit of 26,500 braceros to be used in Texas during April and May. It's about one-fifth the number used this time last year. Rio Grande Valley growers say they could use the whole bunch in their area.

Texas Employment Commission says there are already about 26,500 here; hence, no more imports.

Under Labor Dept. regulations, workers cannot be imported until the TEC certifies the jobs cannot be filled with American citizens. Valley growers recently asked for braceros to harvest vegetables. TEC certified to a shortage of workers in the area and, even after a statewide canvass, was unable to fill the demand.

But the federal suggested recruiting in other states before bringing in Mexicans.

Farm groups protested to every regulatory official in reach.

Texas crop and weather conditions are such, they say, that when they need laborers, they need them then and there. Neither, they point out, do they have time or money to run all over the country looking for workers.

Though federal officials catch the brunt of their criticism, farmers put part of the blame for their labor problems on the increasingly fastidious nature of Mrs. Housewife. She won't have dirty old carrot tops any more, say the farmers. She wants clean, topped carrots.... packaged in plastic. It means more work.

All-Out For Safety

Gov. Price Daniel has started "the greatest highway safety campaign in the history of the state."

County judges, mayors, police chiefs, sheriffs, prosecuting attorneys and school superintendents are being asked to hold meetings and organize local campaigns. Awards will be given to the local officials and news reporting agencies which do the best job of promoting traffic safety.

Governor's goal is to save "a life per county." This would total 254 lives or approximately 10 per cent of last year's traffic death toll.

Anti-Ad Ban Upheld

A new law prohibiting price advertising of eye-glasses is constitutional, says the Texas Supreme Court.

Passed by the last legislature, the law says "opthalmic dispensers" (which the court says means optometrists, too) may not mention "bait, discounts, premiums, prices, gifts" in their ads.

It landed in the courts when one group of optometrists (Texas State Optical) brought suit to prevent another group (Lee Optical) from advertising prices. Defendants said the law was invalid because its caption did not specifically mention the things the law covered.

But the high court ruled the caption was clear enough.

The bill as originally introduced made no reference to price advertising. The portion pertaining thereto was inserted in committee without there being any change in the caption.

Opponents of bill charged "trickery." They argued that this was just another attempt to raise the price of glasses by prohibiting the publicizing of prices.

Up The Ladder

One plan to up-grade higher education in Texas has official approval of the Commission of Higher Education. Others are under study.

Commission approved a request from the University of Texas to divert $1,000,000 from its Available Fund, ordinarily used for buildings, to a research program. Noting that the University needs "brains as well as bricks," President Logan Wilson said the money would be used to attract and hold outstanding research personnel and provide them with equipment and books.

Important Announcement From Safeway

SAVE-A-TAPE PLAN Being discontinued to clear way for a bold new program of:

LOWER PRICES

Safeway introduced in this area the cash register tape premium plan. We called our plan "Save-A-Tape" and it has been the source of many useful and desirable gifts for our customers. We have been pleased to make these valuable premiums available to you as a part of our service, and we hope that you have been benefited from the plan as so many thousands have.
Now a point has been reached where the cost of obtaining satisfactor premiums and handling of the plan interfere with our basic service of supplying you with finest foods at the lowest possible prices. In the face of this, we belive that we owe it to our customers to drop the tape plan and concentrate on doing a better job on that fundamental service. We have found that most of our customers prefer to have us do that.

HERE ARE DETAILS ON REDEEMING YOUR TAPES:

1. We will discontinue giving, effective immediately, green tapes with your purchases.
2. No need to hurry in redemeing your tapes. You will have until Saturday, May 3, in which to redeem them for the premiums of your choice.
3. There will be a wide assortment of premiums in our stores. New items have been added to increase the selection available to you. See the display at your Cameron Safeway.
4. If you haven't sufficient tapes for the premium of your choice, arrangements have been made by which you can make up the difference in cash. Details on this are posted at the premium display in the stores.
5. If you prefer, your tapes may be redeemed for purchases instead of premiums, at the rate of 50c per each of your Save-A-Tape envelopes, containing $35.00 worth of green tapes.

PLEASE REMEMBER that you have ample time for redeeming your tapes—Until May 3, 1958.

"...step on it, honey!

Small Grain Crops Make Strong Growth During Past Week

Small grain crops made excellent growth this week as livestock conditions continued to be the best in recent years, J. D. Moore reported in his weekly crop letter.

Rains early this week stopped field work, but the moisture was needed, he pointed out. Some fields had dried out too much following plowing and planting operations.

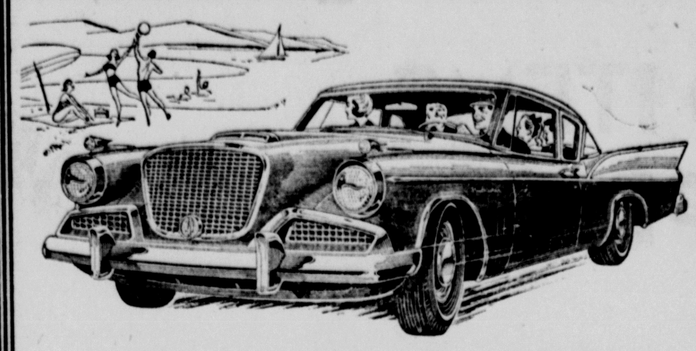

Moore said the rains will boost small grain growth.

Most of the corn crop was planted then some replanted, Moore continued. Some farmers failed to get a good stand of corn.

Rains this week slowed cotton planting though some has been planted, he said.

Moore said that gardens and truck crops are off to a good start with the rains and good growing season.

Livestock continue to sell at strong market prices on most cattle with good quality calves selling for very high prices.

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Imelda Hanel, Lee Roy Peschel

Miss Imelda Hanel and Private Lee Roy Peschel were married Saturday, 9:00 a.m. in St. Monica Catholic Church before an altar banked with white mums and pink hydrangeas.

The Rev. George Duda officiated at the double ring ceremony. Nuptial music was presented by Catherine Mikula, organist, and the St. Monica choir.

Miss Hanel is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Hanel, Cameron, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Leona Peschel of Rosebud.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. For her bridal gown she chose white nylon lace over taffeta, fashioned with a fitted bodice. The softly gathered skirt extended into a chapel length train. Long sleeves fastened at the wrist with tiny covered buttons. A softly rolled collar graced each side of the deep, pointed neckline. She wore a gold cross and chain which belonged to her grandmother.

Her illusion veil was attached to a velvet cap covered with sequins. She carried a cascade of Dutch iris surrounded by feathered white carnations on her Prayer Book.

Mrs. Lawrence Jetter attended her sister as matron of honor. Bridesmaid was Mildred Peschel, sister of the groom, from Rosebud.

The attendants were dressed identically in ballerina length gowns of blue brocaded cotton and carried nosegays of pink sweet peas.

Lawrence Jetter, Cameron, served as best man and groomsman was John Pearson of Rosebud. Ushers were Pete Kunz and Herman Hanel, both of Cameron.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at Simon-George Hall. The table, covered with a white linen cutwork cloth, held a center arrangement of white carnations.

Mrs. Bob Persky of Rogers served the wedding cake and Miss Thelma Peschel presided at the punch service.

Miss Catherine Mikula was in charge of the guest book. Others in the house party were Mrs. Alvin Fuchs, Miss Rita Greenwood and Miss Dosithea Hobizal.

The bride's mother chose a two-piece dress and jacket ensemble in navy blue. She wore a Dutch iris corsage. The groom's mother wore a pale blue tailored dress and a Dutch iris corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Yoe High School and is employed at the Milam County ASC office. The groom graduated from Rosebud High School and is presently serving in the U. S. Army, stationed at Ft. Leonard Wood, Missouri.

Indian Hollow Watershed Shows Form Of Soil, Water Conservation

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

The watershed approach to soil and water conservation is well demonstrated on the Indian Hollow Watershed which starts at Buckholts and extends southward to Little River.

This watershed covers approximately 5,000 acres of land which is owned and operated by about 20 different people. Most of these farmers are cooperators with the Central Texas Soil Conservation District, and have been working for several years towards the complete application of all conservation treatment needed on their individual farms.

As District cooperators approach the completion of their conservation plans, the objective of the District broadens from complete conservation treatment on each individual farm to complete conservation treatment on the entire watershed.

It is appropriat ethat the first conservation plan that was developed and completed is on the farm owned and operated by the SCD Supervisor Mr. Edwin Fischer. This watershed is blessed with its share of good conservation farmers.

Joe Glaser is well known for his pasture work, water development and land leveling operations. John Burtis has completed all of his permanent type practices, and regularly utilizes legumes in the cropping system for cover and soil conditioning. Mrs. Seth Corley is outstanding for her work on brush control and pasture improvement. L. H. A. Fuchs has developed a coordinated conservation plan and has progressed each year towards its completion.

Many conservation problems exist in this area, but the answer to these problems can be found here at home. Someone in the watershed can show by demonstration how each conservation problem can be corrected.

THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Today's Text: Seest thou a man that is hasty in his words? there is more hope of a fool than of him.—Verse 20

Dear Lord, help us to measure our words and speak only when to speak is in season.

Rev. Robert Bayles and family were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Swanzy at Rosebud Sunday.

Tractors Roll As Farmers Plant, Replant Between County Showers

By J. D. Moore, County Agent

Tractors rolled from early to late as farmers rushed planting, replanting, or prepared additional seed beds between showers over much of the county.

Our first disappointment was a poor stand of corn. We first suspected that cold, cloudy soil was the big cause but now we suspect faulty seed as a cause of the skippy stands. We have substantial evidence of this condition.

We are of the opinion that late planted corn could do well because of the favorable moisture conditions.

Prevent Soil Compaction

Excessive use of heavy machinery in farming operations tends to pack certain types of soil into unproductive hardpans or to form hard layers of soil just below plow depth. This condition cuts the soil's ability to absorb water at the surface as well as slows the permeation into the subsoil. Too, in some cases normal root development of planted crops is restricted.

Once soils become compacted, the hard layers must be broken by subsoiling, deep tillage or plant roots. But prevention is still the best way to deal with the problem.

Machine operations should be delayed if the soil is wet. Damage is frequently done shortly after rainy spells when farmers become alarmed about the lateness of the season or vigorous growth or weeds in cultivated crops. The soil's resistance to compaction can be increased by adding to its organic matter content through rotation with grass or pasture plants. Too, cover crops can be grown in off seasons and turned under as green manure before cultivated crops are planted.

A minimum tillage system for the farm should be adopted. That is, tilling the soil as little as possible. This requires judgment on the part of the operator about practices adapted to the area.

For those who already have compacted soil, research is developing machinery and other means to meet the problem more effectively, under varying conditions. More attention to this problem is needed, if we are to avoid permanent and serious injury to some of our best soils.

Clean Farms Are Safest

"Swing out with spring and clean up things," is the advice to farm families from the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council. Disorder ranks second only to poor judgment as a cause of farm and home accidents.

Records show that one out of every five people contacted in a survey of hospitalized home accident cases to be the victim of an accident caused by disorder. Cluttered, untidy surroundings are breeding places for accidents, and are also responsible for other hazards which are a threat to the health and well-being of the family.

Fire finds a breeding place in papers, rags and rubbish tucked into closets, attics or corners. Volatile fuels, paints, cleaners, insecticides are other fire hazards if not properly stored. Check the farm and home for overloaded electrical circuits; lubricate all electric motors in accordance with the manufacturers recommendations and take a good look at the home ventilating system.

Eliminate fall hazards by keeping stairs, halls and alleyways clear of obstructions. Check light bulbs and clean lamp shades for better lighting in hall and on stairways. Remove from the premises broken glass, nails protruding from boards, scrap metal and loose wire. Rodents don't like a clean farmstead.

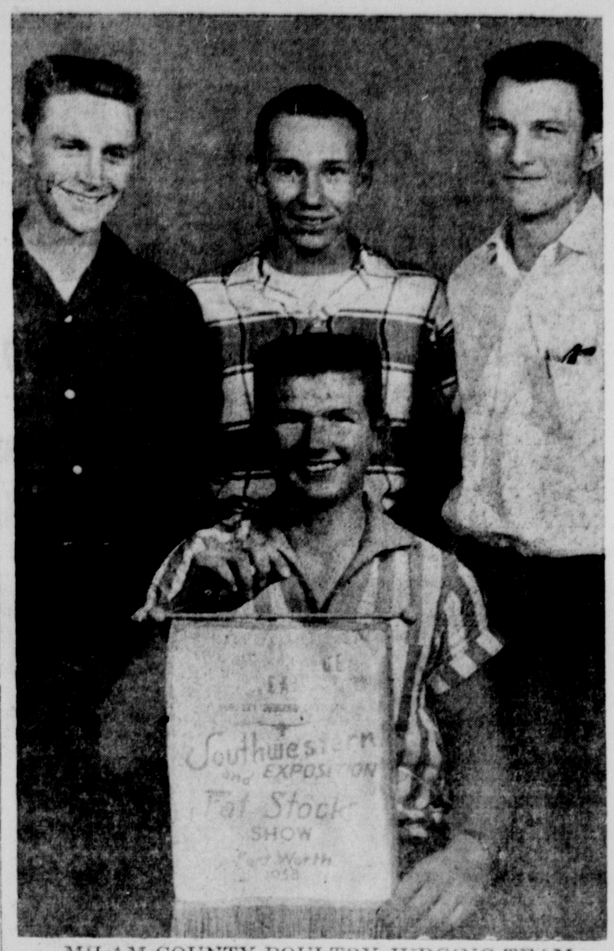

Spring paint-up is part of the spring cleaning job. Hazards which often go unnoticed may be found during the cleaning and painting operations. A clean and orderly farm will produce more at lower cost for there will be a place for everything and everything will be in place on the well-kept farm.

JANE HERBERT WILKINSON LONG

"Mother of Lone Star Independence"

When pretty young Jane Herbert Wilkinson Long chose to follow her husband into Nacogdoches in the summer of 1819, a life of high adventure, incredible hardship and independence was well begun. The first known Anglo-American woman to enter turbulent Texas, she bore the first known child of such parentage in the state. The husband she followed, Dr. James Long, was one of those crusading Americans dedicated to freeing Texas and Mexico from Spanish rule. While he was at Galveston to enlist the aid of pirate Jean Lafitte, Jane was forced to flee Nacogdoches. As her husband's band of hardy fighters harassed the presidios through the bitter winter of 1821, she took refuge in a rude fort at Point Bolivar. Alone there, except for her 5-year-old daughter and a negro girl, she bore a daughter in mid-winter.. Mary James, the first native Anglo-Texan. Jane was rescued months later, only to find that Dr. Long was dead. But she lived many full and exciting years, until 1880, to see Texas under Mexican rule, as a Republic and as a State.

Today Texans still demand and get their right to choose the way they want to live. In this vigorous and freedom-minded homeland.."Beer Belongs" and this is why the United States Brewers Foundation works constantly, in conjunction with brewers, wholesalers and retailers, to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions. Believing that strict law enforcement serves the best interest of Texans, the Foundation stresses close cooperation with the Armed Forces, law enforcement and governing officials in its continuing Self-Regulation program.

Mack's Oil Co. Provides Complete Automobile Services

Mack's Oil Company, on US 77, Cameron, has a variety of auto services and competent staff of eight to carry out a complete auto treatment with Phillips 66 products.

A. W. McCullin, owner of Mack's Oil Co., which has two other retail outlets in Rockdale and Caldwell, features the best in service and name products for his customers automobiles.

McCullin, also Phillips petroleum distributor in Milam, Burleson and Lee Counties, knows that top-notch service is what customers want. And that is what they get at his Cameron service station.

Features Phillips

His Cameron station features Phillips petroleum products including diesel fuel, motor oils and gasoline. He also sells Lee tires, the famous Gates belts, Purolator oil filters and Champion sparkplugs, all well-known brand items.

"You will find the complete service in Mack's 66 in Cameron," McCullin says. "And the same efficient, courteous Phillips 66 service awaits you at the Rockdale and Caldwell stations."

A versatile man in petroleum products and public service, McCullin also buys and sells crude oil in the Minerva field in Milam County. In fact, he points out that he began working in the oil business in Minerva in 1931, moving to Cameron in 1939.

His firm specializes in diesel and heavy oils and operates in 29 counties. His main office is in Cameron, McCullin says.

McCullin provides equally efficient service and sales at his retail outlets.

McCullin moved to Cameron in 1939 where his operation has grown steadily ever since.

The alert Cameron businessman has been as active in civic work as in his profession.

His membership on boards of directors include leadership in the boards of the Methodist Hospitals and Homes, Southwestern Medical Foundation, Dallas, Wesley Foundation of A&M College, Cameron Lions Club where he is chairman of the crippled childrens camp project, and the Cameron Chamber of Commerce.

Many Organiations

He has served as district lay leader of the Bryan Conference of First Methodist Church, chairman of the finance committee of the First Methodist Church, the district board of missions, member of the Texas Methodist Conference Planning Commission, member of the Texas Oil Jobbers and past director, and member of the Texas Motor Transportation Association and director of the safety committee.

He has also served as mayor of the city of Cameron in 1946-47, is a past president of the Lions Club and past president of the Chamber of Commerce.

His many activities in church and civic work have failed to hamper the growth of Mack s Oil Co.

He and Mrs. McCullin have two sons, Albert W., Jr., and Grover Clay McCullin.

McCullin invited motorists to visit his station in Cameron and see what he means by courteous road service. And he invites you to switch to Phillips petroleum products for the best in automobile performance.

Duncum Motors Offers 3-Way Vehicle Service

Coleman Duncum, owner of Duncum Motors, features top-notch service in new and used car sales, radiator repair and auto maintenance.

The veteran DeSoto-Plymouth dealer has operated his agency at the same location for 22 years, providing a well-staffed operation to meet service and sales requirements of new Plymouths and DeSotos, Mercury out-board motors and auto air conditioning.

Newest feature at Duncum Motors is a complete radiator repair Radiator Repair Equipment, including the new flo-tester.

Duncum points out the new machine is used to determine whether a radiator is plugged.

Checks Plugged Areas

"Extent of plugging is quickly determined and immediate repairs can prevent costly engine damage later on," Duncum says.

The congenial car dealer extends a cordial welcome to the public to get radiator repair and service as well as regular auto repair in his service department.

"We combine 45 years in auto experience to give the motorist assurance of know-how in sales or service," he continues.

Duncum also operates a used-car lot at Main and S. Travis where he keeps a stock of fine cars. Both his new and used car sales feature fair dealing with emphasis on "serving what we sell."

"We provide competent service work, assuring our customers further that their new automobile will be taken care of long after they purchase it," Duncum says.

Good Parts Department

His business includes a well-stocked line of parts for both Plymouth and De Soto. And he specializes in the sale of Mercury outboard motors and air conditioning units for cars, one of Duncum otors specialties.

"Our customers are invited to ask about our radiator service. The recently expanded department brings the most complete service of its type to Cameron," Dumcum emphasies.

"And all of our auto service and sales keep the customer's interests uppermost in our minds," he concludes.
